Chemservice completed the acquisition of REACH ChemAdvice

Dear Valued Customer,

We are happy to announce that as of January 01, 2018, REACH ChemAdvice with its offices in Kelkheim, Germany, has become part of the Chemservice group of companies. Due to the ever-increasing requirements of regulatory affairs legislation, REACH ChemAdvice decided to liaise with Chemservice to be able to offer a much broader portfolio of services. With this step, Chemservice together with REACH ChemAdvice further continues to enlarge the customer base and its representation globally as one of the leading independent consulting companies to the chemical industry and its supply chains.

To prepare for a seamless integration and continued customer satisfaction, Dr. Rudolf Staab will stay on board as Managing Director of REACH ChemAdvice. He and his team will ensure business continuity while maintaining a clear priority on meeting customer needs.

Chemservice is an interdisciplinary team of chemists, biologists, toxicologists, environmental scientists and regulatory experts of more than 100 people within the group, its affiliates and JV partners and offices in Germany, Luxemburg, Korea, Switzerland, France, UK, Belgium, Canada and India. Beyond national and international chemical control legislations (such as e.g. EU-REACH, Korean-REACH, TSCA, Turkish REACH, Taiwan,...), inventory notifications, registrations of biocides, pesticides, cosmetics and food contact materials, Chemservice is established in health and safety, consortia management, advocacy and socio-economic analysis, to support its clients comprehensively. With REACH ChemAdvice and Jim DeLisi, the Chemservice Group establishes a hub in the United States with further growth opportunities in this important market for the chemical industry.

Chemservice has developed a unique software-based solution to cover indirect and multi-step non-EU supply chains, the REACH-Code-Model. Thus, enabling formulators and traders to achieve reach coverage from upstream supplier registrations.

As REACH ChemAdvice, Chemservice is a member of ORO, the Only Representative Organisation, based in Brussels, Belgium. Dr. Dieter Drohmann, the founder of Chemservice, is chairing ORO as president.
